

“I was the best undergraduate last year”

Win big prizes from big recruiters!

There are 12 Awards up for grabs to identify the top undergraduates in IT and Computer Science, Management, Law, Arts and Humanities, Business and Finance, Engineering, Social Sciences, Construction, Engineering and Design, Low Carbon, Accountancy and Economics plus two special awards: the ‘Future Business Leader’ Award open to students from any discipline and the ‘First Year’ Award open to undergraduates from any discipline who have just started their second year.

The rewards are great: winners’ prizes include laptops, internships and all-expenses paid trips to New York, South America, Florida, South Africa and continental Europe and the final ten students in each Award will be invited to the Undergraduate of the Year Awards in Canary Wharf London on 13th April, 2012 where the winners will be announced to national press coverage by The Rt. Hon Michael Portillo.

If you make the final 10, not only will you be very close to a fantastic prize, you will have proved yourself to be amongst the best and most employable students in the country.
